ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Frank Ackridge Found Dead in His Buggy at Livingston Creek.

Fredonia, Ky., June 24.—Last Friday morning as two men were crossing the creek on the Marion and Fredonia road half mile north of here, they noticed a horse and buggy standing in the water a short distance from the road, upon investigating they found the body of Frank Ackridge lying in the bottom of the buggy and across the wheels. Not being able to tell whether or not life was totally extinct, one of them hurried to the nearest house for assistance and then to town for a doctor, while the other watched until help came.

In a short time a large crowd had gathered and in taking the body out of the buggy they found his pistol lying in the bottom of the buggy with one cartridge empty.

The coroner was notified and the jury after an examination of the body and the witnesses decided that Mr. Ackridge met his death by the accidental discharge of his pistol as it fell from his scabbard and the hammer struck the edge of the buggy bed and fired, the ball, a 38 calibre, striking him just below the breast bone ranging upward passed through the body lodging just beneath the skin between the shoulder blades.

The body was brought here to the home of his son, John Ackridge, and his family and friends were notified. Saturday morning the funeral services were conducted from the residence of John Ackridge by W. T. Reid to a large crowd of friends and relatives and the body was then taken to the family cemetery at Eddyville and laid to rest.

Small Blaze.

Last Saturday the residence of A. C. Moore caught fire and was under considerable headway before it was discovered. The fire discovered in the kitchen, and is supposed to have been caused by the igniting of a box of matches.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon, June 22, in honor of her sixth birthday, Miss Elizabeth Cook was given a party by her grandmother, Mrs. H. M. Cook.

Ice cream, sherbet and cake were served to the little guests, who were: Anna Cox, Hazel and Lucile Pollard, Ruth Croft, Louise Clement, Fanny Moore, Bertie and Dulcie Travis, Edwina Rankin, Nannie and Leona Miller, Mayme and Ruth Haynes, Joanna Rankin, Helen Sayre, Linda Jenkins, Ruth Flanary, Virginia Blue, Geneva Daniel, Virginia Flanary, Zula Cannon, Bertha Chitman, Clara Orme, Roberta Moore, Rebecca Cromwell and Hunter Moore.

Marion Boy's Success in West.

Kay Kevill last week telegraphed for his brother, Jamie, to go at once to Bishop, California, to take charge of some work assisting him in the conduct of the engineering for the great Nevada-California Power Co., of Tonopah, Nevada, of which he is assistant engineer and resident manager at Bishop, California.

This company has $5,000,000 capital and is sending electric current across two ranges of mountains to Tonopah, 90 miles; to Goldfield 115 miles; to Bullfrog, 140 miles, and to Manhattan, Silver Peak and other mining camps in those States.

The company has one power house completed, with 20,000 horse-power and sends the subtle fluid in a primary current of 50,000 volts.

They are now having laid six miles of steel pipe, three feet in diameter, and four miles of wood stave pipe, four feet in diameter.

The new power house No. 1 has a fall of 1765 feet and is built near the summit of the Serrias, 10,000 feet above the sea level. The pressure is 755 lbs to the square inch.

A dam is being built to hold back 225,000,000 cubic feet of water and will require two years to build it and an outlay of $250,000. This dam is 1,000 feet in length and will be 75 feet high, all of which goes to show the gigantic enterprises which are being carried on in developing the mines of the West, and much of it at that particular vicinity under the care and direction of a Marion boy, Kay Kavanaugh Kevill, who not only gave his brother, Jamie, an education, but now gives him a fine position, assisting him in his work.

He also sent for Roy Bishop, of Sturgis, and gave him a good place, he being the son of a poor, but respectable widow with whom Kay boarded while in Sturgis, and being an apt boy of fine character. The Record-Press is glad to note in the

NASHVILLE BOARD OF TRADE

Visit Our City Wednesday and are Given a Hearty welcome by the Commercial Club and Citizens

Wednesday morning a special train bearing seventy-five representatives of the Nashville board of trade arrived in Marion, accompanied by the First Regiment Band of that city. The visitors were met at the depot by several hundred of Marion's best people, who amid the blasts of whistles and the music of the Marion Silver Cornet Band, gave the visitors a hearty welcome to the city. From the station a line of march was formed and the entire crowd, headed by the two Bands, marched to Court Square where the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor J. W. Blue, who in his happiest way compared the visitors to lovers wooing the favor of the beautiful and prosperous city of Marion.

The response was made by President Leland Hume, of the Cumberland Telephone Company.

Short talks were also made by J. P. Cohen, Harvey Hogg, H. A. Cragon and P. M. Ezell, of the Nashville party, and by Congressman James for Crittenden county. The Nashville party mingled with our people and distributed many souvenirs. After the speeches, greeting and hand shaking was over, the bands headed the procession and the return to the special train in waiting at the depot was made.

The visitors made a good impression here and were loud in their praises of the reception and welcome given them by Marion and her enterprising people.

mining journals the accounts of the stupendous engineering plans under way near Tonopah, especially as it is aware that a Marion boy is furnishing the brains and energy to do it.

Judge Dowell's Plan.

Judge and Mrs. R. A. Dowell, accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Woods, departed last Saturday for their summer home in Wellsford, Kansas, by way of Galveston, where they will stop for a few days.

Mrs. Dowell, who came here in very poor health last fall, is still quite feeble, but the climate of the Falfurrias country was a benefit to her, and the Judge hopes to bring her back to The Land of Heart's Delight in October or November; and will make Falfurrias the permanent winter home of the family.

As many of our readers know, Judge Dowell is a prominent wheat grower in the Sunflower State. He has about 1250 acres this year, and expects a fair crop despite the losses in most sections of the state. At Falfurrias he has built several cottages, which bring in a comfortable income; and also has cotton on his farm just North of town. He expects to build more houses this fall, and to put more land in cotton. Then he intends to divide his time between Texas and Kansas, looking after his interests here in the fall and winter; and there in the spring and summer.

Thus, he has worked out a combination of interests that form almost an endless chain of income; and his example will, doubtless, be followed by other shrewd men in Kansas and elsewhere.—Falfurrias, Texas, Facts.

New Church Windows.

From many expressions of a complimentary nature concerning the new windows in the Presbyterian church the Record-Press sees confirmation of its views heretofore expressed in that they are very beautiful. For artistic design and color tone we feel safe in saying they are not surpassed in Western Kentucky. Of course such cities as Henderson and Paducah have churches with more and larger windows, but what we said above still stands.

The members of the Presbyterian church feel that the installation of the windows is largely due to Mrs. Horace Hendel Sayre. Mrs. Sayre has not been in our midst but a few years, yet her interest in things Presbyterian is as lively as though she had been in the church her whole life. Her energy is something wonderful. The members of the Presbyterian church made grateful acknowledgements.

A Masonic Journey.

Quite a number of the members of the Masonic Lodge in Marion went to Blackford Tuesday night of this week returning Wednesday morning. Of the number we note the following:

J. L. Rankin, W. B. Butler, F. B. Heath, T. A. Frazer, C. D. Haynes, C. W. Lamb, G. B. Taylor, Albert Travis, Rev. R. C. Love, J. L. Travis, W. L. Moore, P. H. Deboe, W. R. Hughes, W. B. Wilborn, J. B. Kevill, C. E. Donakey, Seldon Ainsworth, E. B. Franklin, W. D. Cannon, Geo. M. Crider.

The object of the trip was a visit to Ashley Lodge of Blackford and assisted them in some of their work. The trip was quite a success and from the hearty expressions so often heard the visiting brethren were made to feel thrice welcome.

A Good Name.

Sam Brown he kept a great big store.
And advertised his goods.
Till in a dozen years or more
He was n't in the woods.

Not much was Sam. He had a wad
Of comfortable size.
As do the great majority
Of men who advertise.

Now, when a man has made his wad,
He buys a horse or two,
Or three or four, and tries them out
To see what they can do.

Sam had a dozen, but on one
He set his heart and pile.
And trained him for the County Race
To do the fastest mile.

Sam called him "advertising," and His friends all asked why he Should give a horse a name like that.
And Sam said they would see.

They laughed at him and at his horse,
And gazed the name he had.
But Sam, he never said a word,
Though sometimes he looked sad.

Well, by and by the race came off,
And Sam's horse won, hands down,
And what Sam gathered in on bets
Almost broke up the town.

"You see, dear friends," Sam grinned
At them,
While emptying out their skins,
"I called him 'Advertising,' for
I know that always wins."

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mount City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Railroad Development.

Now that the Nashville & Huntsville railway is almost an assured fact for Nashville, through the reduction of that city's subscription from $75,000 to $50,000 by special agreement of the promoters, it seems that railroads will be built thick and fast. The Nashville & Mt. Pleasant Interurban is already under way and a charter has been filed this week for the Nashville, Shelbyville & Decatur railway, projected to extend from Nashville through Murfreesboro, Shelbyville and Fayetteville, Tenn. to Huntsville, Ala. The proposed line is 116 miles in length and will open up one of the richest countries in Middle Tennessee, which means the world, so far as the fertility of the soil is concerned.

BECKHAM FOR PRESIDENT

Major Sanders, of Louisville, Makes the Nomination in the N. Y. Sun.

The New York Sun prints a column communication from Maj. D. W. Sanders, of Louisville, nominating Gov. Beckham, of Kentucky, for President of the United States on the Democratic ticket. In his statement of the case Major Sanders says in part:

"Governor Beckham has displayed qualities in his administration of State government which show most clearly and distinctly that he is a man of unquestionable integrity, free from intrigue, determined to give to his State the best administration under the laws within his power. He has shown more statesmanship, more tact, more diplomacy and more firmness in the maintenance of a principle and an execution of duties devolving upon him as the Governor of the State than any other man who has presided in that office for the last fifty years.

"No man has the confidence of the people of Kentucky to a greater extent than Governor Beckham. It is true he is a young man of most wonderful faculties—evenly balanced fully developed, and it may be safely said of him that egotism, vanity and selfishness constitute no part of his predominating characteristics.

Governor Beckham represents the progressive element of the State; he has the hearty and enthusiastic support of the younger members of the Democratic party in all the old Democratic counties, and if the national Democratic convention should honor him by nominating him for President of the United States the entire Democratic party, not only in Kentucky, but throughout the South, would enthusiastically rally round him. Certainly, in the selection of a Democrat from the Southern States Kentucky could afford to present Gov. Beckham as the man who more completely supplies the qualifications required of the Democratic nominee than any other Democrat in the State. Seven years as Governor, the nominee of the Democratic primary throughout the State for United States Senator, which is equivalent to an election in this State, and the statesmanlike ability he has shown in his management of public affairs—all this presents him in my judgement as a commanding figure worthy of the consideration of the Democratic national convention for the nomination for President."—Louisville Times.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by J. H. Orme.

A Sunny Disposition.

A very charming old lady says that if she had the power to choose the best from all the good things in life, she would not ask for wealth, because of its responsibilities; she would not ask for beauty because of its strain on character; she would not ask for health, glorious as the treasure is, nor for genius; but she would pray for a sunny disposition, as the boon which confers more happiness upon its owner and more happiness upon those with whom one comes in contact, than any other which falls to the lot of any human creature.

Most people would see nothing worth while in this poor woman's life, says Success; some would even commit suicide were they situated as she is; yet she manages to find something beautiful, something worth treasuring up in the memory even in her darkest days of sorrow.

Her experience ought to shame those of us who complain of our infinitely better lot in life.

If children were properly trained to see the uncommon in the common, to find beauty where other people see only ugliness; if they were trained to find their enjoyment in the little experiences of life, we should not have the great seething unrest and discontent which we now find among all classes.

The trouble is, we emphasize the wrong thing. If it were a little better off, if we had what our neighbors have, we think we should be happy. Yet we know perfectly well that many of the most miserable people in the world are rich.

Every man owes it to his fellow men to go about with a bright, cheerful, hopeful, optimistic, radiating face, radiating sunshine, joy, hope, instead of blackness and despair. The human face ought to be a splendid picture, attractive, radiant with beauty joy and hope. It is every man's duty to radiate encouragement.

Think what it would mean if every body were to go about with a bright cheerful face, and regard it as almost criminal to be seen with a discouraged, gloomy, sour, melancholy expression. What a mighty current of uplifting, encouraging power would come to all of us if everybody regarded this sunshine radiation as a sacred duty!

You have no more right to poison any thought by projecting discouraged, gloomy thoughts into my mind than you have to scatter thistle seeds in my garden.—Exchange.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Gone to Washington.

William Jenkins, the blacksmith at Lisman, went to Washington, D. C., last week to take out a patent on an invention he had made. Mr. Jenkins has been at work on the device for a year or more, but he has guarded it well, only a few of his nearest relatives having seen it, and nothing is known of it except that it is to be used for railroad purposes. Its inventor thinks it will be worth a fortune to him.—Providence Enterprise.

"INCORPORATED"

Expensive Child's Play by Last Legislature.

Of all the acts of folly committed by recent Legislatures of Kentucky the one requiring incorporated concerns to put the word "incorporated" on all stationary used, put it into every advertisement, etc., is the worst.

Many business houses have lost hundreds of dollars by the word being omitted, and often it was done by the negligence of the printers. But the business men, though entirely innocent of any intention of evading the law, have had to pay the penalty.

There never has been a bigger piece of foolishness put into the Statutes of Kentucky. If anyone has ever been benefited in the least by such a law we have not heard of it. It is nothing but child's play, but it is the most expensive toy that the world has ever known. Every intelligent person would like to see the law repealed and the press of the State owes it to the people to use every effort to have it wiped off the Statutes when the next Legislature meets. No doubt it will be done.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

A Railway Yarn.

A few days ago Mr. John Parrish received a marked copy of an Evansville, Ind., paper containing an article somewhat ancient, but the event will probably be recalled by some of the older inhabitants of Harrodsburg. About a quarter of a century ago a little railroad extended from this city to old Harrodsburg Junction, and Capt. J. A. Tomlinson was the conductor on the only train run on the road. It is supposed that the incident referred to in the article to the London Tid-Bits, occurred at that time. Following is the article from Tid-Bits:

"Do you use the block system on this road?" inquired a passenger in a train in Kentucky.

"No, sir," replied the conductor, "we have no use for it."

"Do you use the electric or pneumatic signals?"

"No, sir."

"Have you a double track?"

"No."

"Well, of course, you have a train dispatcher and run all trains by telegraph?"

"No."

"I see you have no brakemen. How do you flag the rear of your train if you are stopped from any cause between stations?"

"We don't flag."

"Indeed! What a way to run a railroad! A man takes his life in his hand when he rides on it. This is criminally reckless!"

"See here, mister! If you don't like this railroad you can get off and walk. I am the president of this road and its sole owner. I am also the board of directors, treasurer, general manager, superintendent, paymaster, track master, general passenger agent, general freight agent, conductor, brakeman and boss. This is the Great Western Railroad of Kentucky, six miles long, with terminal at Harrodsburg and Harrodsburg Junction. This is the only train on the road of any kind and ahead of us is the only engine. We never have collisions. The engineer does his own firing, and runs the repair shop and roundhouse all by himself. He and I run this here railway. It keeps us pretty busy, but we've always got time to stop and eject a sassy passenger. So you want to behave yourself to go through with us or you will have your baggage set off here by the hay stack.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Lone Vigil by Kentucky Girl.

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—Miss Rebecca Noe, of Greenburg, Ky., arrived in the city Tuesday morning on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern road, expecting to be met at the station by her fiancé, A. S. Dodd, of Singleville, and to whom she had been introduced by letter through a Miami man, formerly a resident of Greenburg, and who corresponds regularly with the Noe family.

The girl had never met Dodd, and had only a small tintype by which to identify him. She wore a high bow of blue satin ribbon at her breast by which Dodd was to identify her. Dodd failed to put in appearance at the station, though he had sent her the money with which to come to Springfield, and told her he would meet her at the station June 17. But she waited all day and all night, but he came in the morning, accompanied by two women, and the patience of Miss Noe was awarded. They were married soon afterward by the Rev. F. M. Rogers.

BOONE'S PATH

Will Be Followed Through Cumberland Gap Road to be Built at Once.

Middlesboro, Ky., June 20.—The Government road from this city through the Cumberland Gap into Claiborne county, Tennessee, and Lee county Fiscal Court having made an appropriation of $1,500, which is half of that county's pro rata of the amount necessary to construct the road.

Gov. Swanson, of Virginia, has wired the committee in charge of getting the funds for the road that the State of Virginia will make up the remainder of the $3,500 due by Lee county by furnishing convict labor on the road.

The appropriations of Claiborne county, Tennessee, and Bell county Kentucky, have been collected and the construction of the road will commence July 1. The machinery and Government experts who will have charge of the building of the road, will arrive in Middlesboro next week. The road will be five miles in length and will be finished by October 1. Its course will be through the historic old Cumberland Gap, along the same path which was blazed by Daniel Boone when he first came to Kentucky from Virginia, to the town of Cumberland Gap, Tenn. Though but five miles in length, the road will pass through parts of three States. Three miles of the road will be in Kentucky. The cost of the road, exclusive of the convict labor will be $16,000.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my Book on either dyspepsia. The Heart or the Kidneys Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for samples and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Haynes & Taylor.

Negroes Must Work or go to Rock Pile.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 21.—Notwithstanding the fact that the farmers are clamoring for help in the harvest fields and jobs are also plentiful in town, there are a number of negroes who refuse to work, and in order to make them do so the city authorities have issued orders to the police department to arrest all loafers, black or white, and upon conviction to fine them or send them to the workhouse. The fine is ten dollars or imprisonment for thirty days, and upon being convicted the second time the imprisonment is sixty days. The orders are expected to have a most salutary effect.

Franks Brought Home Number of Scalps.

Owensboro, Ky., June 21.—Collector E. T. Franks returned from Louisville yesterday where he has been in attendance at the Republican State Convention. Mr. Franks was accompanied home by several of his lieutenants and they claimed to be carrying several scalps under their belts which had been secured at the G. O. P. pow wow. There were also on the same train with Franks and his henchmen several members of the "contesting" delegation from Daviess county. They were not in quite as happy a frame of mind as were the Franks delegates. It was only with difficulty that the members of this contesting delegation secured badges to admit to the floor of the convention. The Hancock and Webster county delegations, it is understood supplied them with the necessary badges.

Ancient Rome

is now merely a memory of the past. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the family liniment of the twentieth century. A positive cure for Rheumatism, Burns, Cuts, Sprains, Neuralgia etc., Mr. C. H. Judge Hagar.

The great majority of the democrats of the State are more than pleased with the position that Judge Hagar, their candidate for Governor, has taken in regard to temperance and the enforcement of the laws of the State. It has been but a few years since, when no candidate for State office would be willing to take very advanced grounds on temperance questions. But of late, the Democratic party has been at the head and front in moral reforms.

The last legislature passed many laws that were in favor of temperance and the next one will go even farther than the last one. The last legislature was democratic and so will the next one be. The people of the State, as a whole are for the party that shall stand in the front for all moral reforms. If any one had in the past been afraid that Judge Hagar was not all right on these questions, that fear has been removed. —Glens Graphic.

NEW SALEM

[Last week's letter.]

The corn crop about all planted. The few days of sunshine last week was made good use of by the farmers.

Wheat harvest will commence this week.

Nearly every family has from one to four cases of measles.

Mrs. John Harpending after spending two weeks, the guest of relatives near New Salem, left Sunday for her mother's near Silome.

John W. Holeman and wife, of Mexico, spent Saturday and Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahan.

We would say to the Fair View correspondent, that John E. Wring, can get his turkey gobblers by applying to J. D. H. 129 Battle Ax street Hickory Flats.

The mineral interest has taken a boom in our section, since the Salem rail road has become a reality.

Our young friend, Jim Mahan, has started a goat ranch.

A number one case of the measles has brought one old bald headed sinner to see the error of his ways, in this section.

We always like a small drink of good liquor, but we will never hanker after it enough to hunt up a case of the measles to get it.

The song of the play-boy is heard from early dawn until dewy eve.

Mrs. Duke Farris and Miss Charlie Hayden, of Salem, were the guests of Squire Harpending and family last week.

Two citizens, of Salem, came very near starting a little of that stuff that broke loose in Georgia during the war, in this section last week. Our advice to them in the future, is to be a little more peculiar or R. B. Wright will have a call.

Rufus Parks has a very sick child, also Robert Cash is on the sick list.

Some body said Marion wanted to build a railroad to Salem. Well just let her come.

Major Stevens and Capt. Wolford, of Salem, made a business trip through this section last week.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure. Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense. We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

We do not guarantee situations to prospective students in order to get their patronage. We do not guarantee to not resort to such dishonest practices.

Fake schools "guarantee" situations in order to secure students, because they have no other inducements to offer.

Our work is so thorough that a guarantee is superfluous. Business men are so eager to help that they help take that a large percent of our students take positions before they graduate.

See us before making arrangements for your business and shorthand education at some inferior, fake school. We will take pleasure in telling you all about the loopholes in the "positive guarantee" of dishonest schools.

Hogwallow News.

On account of the length of the days at this season of the year it stays early until very late in the evening.

Relatives are good things. They come in mighty handy as fillers in the funeral procession.

A big flock of lightning bugs was observed in Hogwallow the other night. Loud thunder accompanied them.

Raz Baalow, while drunk and disorderly Saturday went to the home of Columbus Allsop and broke up several hen nests.

It is regretted by the community that Atlas Peek planted his Irish potato crop at the wrong time of the moon, as they come up without any tops on them.

Don't worry. Just think, some day you'll be dead.

Yam Sims come out Sunday in a new pair of pants. They have made a wonderful change in him, and he has cut down his list of speaking acquaintances to just a few of our best people.

Owing to a rise in the price of whisky the bottoms of all jugs have been raised four inches.

A narrow-gauged man never has to have a side-track for his trains of thought.

Luke Mothwsla has been passing the time away this week by turning around the hands on his clock.

To insure good health in the summer months keep the windows raised at night—especially if the family has been eating onions.

A wise horse never gets scared and runs away going up hill.

The Dog Hill preacher has been looking bothered here lately.

Lawlessness has broke loose in our midst while the deputy constable is on the sick list.

Luke Mothwsla is skimming his pond so that the mud turtles can come to the top.

As an evidence of prosperity and substantial growth around Hogwallow we note with pride that the Hog Ford graveyard is to be enlarged.

The Lord loves a cheerful preacher.

The sun doesn't come out only on pretty days.

The Hog Ford still-house has been condemned by the Dog Hill preacher, and a new one will have to be built at once.

Ellick Hellwanger has been arrested for leaning too hard against the postoffice.

A Thousand Dollar's Worth of Good.

I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain, says A. H. Thurnes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O. "I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick-dust-like substance and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." Foley's Kidney Cure will cure every form of kidney or bladder disease. Sold by J. H. Orme.

Telegraphers Wanted.

Twenty-three railroads have asked the Bowling Green University for telegraphy students trained in that institution. Though it is the largest telegraphy school South of the Ohio river, it is unable to supply the demand made upon it for operators. The same is true of book-keepers and stenographers. Young people never had a better opportunity to secure certain and remunerative positions.

The Doctor.

In the name of thousands of unbroken homes in which midnight hand-to-hand fights with death have been fought and won; in the name of thousands of lives rescued from abnormality and made useful; in the name of unshed tears and forestalled pain and baffled death—I doff my hat to-day to the Doctor.

May he never have use for his own medicine.

May each moment of pain he has saved others shine in the crown of his life like a bright star.

May the children to whom he has saved parents and the parents to whom he has saved children take time to acknowledge the doctor's worth.

May his patients pay his bill. And in the inevitable hour may a certain grim adversary recognize a noble foe and deal gently with the doctor.

The doctor's work is priestly in its character. It is the doctor who enters the sanctum sanctorum of the life and the home and learns its secrets. It is the doctor into whose keeping we give those interests which are guarded from the world. The smallest part of our faith in the doctor relates to health, or the physical appearances of life and death.

The doctor's work is more without the medicine case than with it. The medicine does not do the patient half as much good as the doctor does. When the croupy cough arouses at midnight there is healing in the mention of the family doctor's name and hope enters the room with him. The doctor is not glad to hear of sickness.

The study and advice of all good doctors is now toward the end of preventing as well as relieving sickness.

From the time the doctor starts on his rounds in the morning until he has answered his last night bell he hears nothing but the groanings of humanity, save when he hears that he is giving relief. His life is not a pleasant one. He cannot claim one night for sleep, one day for vacation. All the ulcers, the sores, the freaks of pain, the wages of sin, the penalty of ignorance are before him constantly. Therefore, if you meet him tomorrow don't mention that pain you had over eating today. He hears enough of them.

The doctor will agree with you that medicine is not an exact science. You are not lessening his usefulness by having him admit that. The doctor will also agree that this generation suffers from a more varied lot of diseases than did our forefathers—but the doctor didn't invent them, did he? The doctor will also agree with you that there are better things than medicine, but this does not weaken his authority to say when medicine is necessary.

From the very fact that medicine cannot be classed among the exact sciences we can expect that doctors, of all students, will be the most progressive in their experiments and discoveries.

But for his good deeds, for his patience, for his skill, for his great share in the bearing of humanity's burdens, I doff my hat to The Doctor. May he live to see all his advice followed, all his patients cured and all his bills paid.—W. J. C., in Detroit News.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth, stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed. Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by J. H. Orme, druggist, 50c.

By reason of his energy and industry this fearless, adventurous, unconquerable pioneer amassed a fortune for those days, and when he died left his children more than 1400 acres of land.

CALLED HIM "DUDE"

FARMERS RESENT MAN'S ADVICE AS TO WHISKERS.

Meddling with Subject of Personal Adornment Seems to Have Made J. H. Hale, Peach Grower, Somewhat Unpopular.

J. H. Hale, who has made a fortune raising peaches in Connecticut and Georgia, discovered that he put his foot in it when he went out of his way at the annual meeting of the State Agricultural Society at Springfield, Mass., to tell farmers that they would do better if they were "sleeker" in appearance.

A deluge of letters began to pour in on him from grangers who affect beards, informing the peach man that they didn't give a continental whoop what Hale thought about their whiskers or anything else that belonged to them; their whiskers were their own, and it was none of his darned business whether the said whiskers went uncombed and wild or were "harrowed and scythed by barber fellows."

The grangers who didn't write about their whiskers had a hot word to say about the Hale suggestions that they should put on "store clothes" and abandon homespun, rubber neckties, celluloid collars and antediluvian headgear.

"You go back to Georgia or Connecticut, or wherever you be from, and stay there!" wrote old Squire Whipple, whose tangled chin underbrush is known the length of the Springfield Turnpike. "You raise peaches and we'll raise whiskers. And one thing more—even if we do wear rubber neckties we don't go around putting our noses into other folks's business. We keep looking straight ahead. Now get along, you dude, and don't come around here no more to put city notions in sensible country boys' heads."

Rather Cruel Practical Joke.

A practical joke was played upon the district of Ballymena, County Antrim, Ireland. Large posters on walls and trees announced that the war department wanted thousands of cats for export to stations abroad where British troops were quartered. As these stations were overrun with rats, prices ranging from 50 cents to one dollar were offered for healthy animals, with or without tails. It was added that a war office agent would attend at Ballymena Fair Hill to purchase suitable cats. On the day announced the roads to Ballymena were blocked with conveyances of all kinds filled to the brim with cats. For hours the owners waited for the "war office agent." At last it dawned on them that they had been hoaxed and the carts rolled homeward with their were thrown overboard on the journey squealing loads. Many of the animals and left to the mercy of strangers.

A Big Day at Bell's Mines.

On Saturday, June 16, 1907 R. M. Franks and two of the Travis families, viz: Albert and Lieurgus, started from Marion in the early morning, Franks following Dan Patch and the Traveses following two of the white pilgrims from the Wallingford stable. The pilgrims, notwithstanding had some advantage of Dan Patch in the start, was soon over taken and some of the cargo of the pilgrims was transferred to the vehicle of Dan. So with merry hearts and uplifted heads and voices we sped along. As the day grew warmer and the many mile posts had been past, one of the pilgrims began to grow faint and weary of the journey, notwithstanding the spirit of the brute was willing, his flesh was weak.

High noon had almost come to Bell's Mines before the arrival of the Travis families. As the forenoon past the program was continued to a late hour. The Travis families were in time, so we repaired to the grove just under the hill and not only Franks and Traveses were the beneficiaries of a sumptuous repast, but a large company of the best looking folks, with only a few exceptions, that I have seen for many days. And such an assortment of good things was scarcely ever surpassed.

Now what we done for this was a plenty. But soon after this enjoyable hour, the Travis families were admonished that the time of their departure was near at hand and that the last of the journey would be longer than the first, owing to the inability of the pilgrims. As there were others left on the ground to carry out the afternoon program, they were soon found winding their way home. At 6:00 p. m. they arrived in the city of Marion, from whence they started, four hours later. Franks arrived at Silver Hights soon after following Dan Patch. After all we feel like it was a day well spent.

KIDNAPPED CHILD.

Italian Boy Stolen and Held for Ransom—Terrible Story of Brutality Is Told

New Orleans, June 23.—Two miles into the interior of a big swamp near this city, the headless body of Walter Lamana, an Italian child between seven and eight years old, who was kidnapped and held for $6,000 ransom two weeks ago, was found by police and vigilantes just before day-break today. He has been strangled to death, according to the confession of one of the several Italians held by the police.

The boy's neck is supposed to have been broken when he was strangled causing the head to become severed from the body when decomposition set in. The head was found a short distance from the body.

Five Italians, two of them women, are under arrest, charged with being accomplices to the murder, and extra details of police and deputies are maintaining order in the excited Italian quarter of the city. All day long small crowds have been dispersed promptly by the police, despite whose precautions a report has gotten out summoning a mass meeting at the Elk Place.

DEPUTIES GUARD PRISON.

Seventy armed deputies have been placed on guard at the New Orleans parish prison, the strongest in the State, where three of the prisoners are held, and some apprehensions have been felt over the safety of two other prisoners who were taken to an adjoining prison.

Seldom since the Mafia lynchings, sixteen years ago, has New Orleans been stirred with threats of violence as today and some of these threats are made by some of those who participated in the disorder at that time. The law and order element is much stronger than it has been heretofore and a large number of leading citizens of all nationalities and the city's leading commercial leaders have pledged themselves to prevent violence.

The murdered boy was found near St. Rose, about twenty miles from New Orleans. Sweating process wrung a confession from one of the suspects, who was taken from St. Rose about midnight last night and carried into the woods by a combined force of the officials and vigilantes, who have had the search in charge.

This man, Ignazio Campicigiano, was kept in the woods an hour when he confessed, charging four Italians with the murder. He said that about the time of the mass-meeting in New Orleans more than a week ago, held for the purpose of prosecuting search for the boy, these men, who were in a vacant house in St. Rose, became frightened and consulted about what to do with the child.

The boy was begging and crying to be taken home to his parents, said Campicigiano, and one of the quartet of kidnapers grabbed the child and strangled him to death to stop his noise. Later two of the kidnapers, he said, came to him carrying the body in a blanket and after threatening him with death if he told, took the body into the swamp.

WALNUT GROVE.

Walnut Grove Missionary Meeting last third Saturday and Sunday were gala days for Walnut Grove church. Saturday Rev. Egbert preached a fine logical sermon. Saturday night J. B. McNeely talked from the text "And the Lord added unto the church daily such as should be saved." Sunday morning Rev. E. B. Blackburn read a scripture lesson and Revs. J. T. Board, Egbert, E. M. Eaton, J. B. McNeely, A. D. Moore, A. C. Deboe and J. T. Travis talked along Missionary lines. After their talks a collection was made for missions, which amounted to twenty dollars. The congregation adjourned until 2:30 and then we listened to a fine discourse from Rev. E. M. Eaton, then some announcements by the pastor and the great Mission meeting adjourned with a benediction by Rev. J. T. Davis.

What Franks Did.

Mr. Franks, from apparent defeat except in his own country, grabbed a good deal of victory at Louisville. The accident to Yerkes and his enforced absence resulted in the anti-Taft people taking up Franks as their candidate for temporary chairman. He seized upon this with enthusiasm and captured a majority of the committee against Marshall Bullitt, the Taft candidate, and Willson, whose nomination he had opposed until the last hour, and Bradley, who hadn't spoken to him for ten years, came to his aid. Only for harmony's sake did he finally yield to Judge Holt, after first driving Bullitt from the field. He even pursued Bullitt in his own district, assisting in preventing him from going on the committee on resolutions.

Probably to Franks more than any one else is credit due for defeating an endorsement of Taft by the convention. In Franks Mr. Fairbanks has found a courageous and effective leader in Kentucky.—Owensboro Messenger.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
